About WanderingMrM:

[Joker's Commentary: I cannot vouch for his reliability, only his sincerity. Personally, I lean heavily on the skeptical side. He has a habit of making unsubstantiated claims about matters he couldn't possibly know about. I make sure to ask questions and demand for sources; he's at least obliging enough to answer, but seldom provides source material. Though that has encouraged me to do some digging of my own. There may be inconsistencies in his reports: sometimes he presents previously shared disclosures as recent updates and he often presents his experiences or speculation as fact.

As far as I can tell, he doesn't have a prominent track record for premonitions about contemporary events, unlike other clairvoyants who foresaw Covid and such. I am not sure what connections he has to Russia, if any.]

→ [Public] I do not take drugs, I rarely ever drink on special occasions and there is no history of mental illness in my family.

→ [Public] During the night when I go to sleep and at times awaken at 5am from them, at times during the day when I am as if being rocked slowly to sleep. No history of alcoholism, I only drink one special occasion and even then just a tiny sip...

→ [Private] Now in terms of the awake state and magnetism, I am all over all of the scales, at times while I am awake, at times when I am asleep. High intensity definitely, sometimes it can be an instant flash of information that even people would not realize something odd is happening with me. While I just witnessed a whole year go by in a blink of an eye...

→ [Private] At times it is a stream of high-pitched tone that is not harmful but rather soothing, other times it is a flash of an image, other times it is a dream within a dream within a dream and out of body stuff, etc. I have no real control over it and I can not explain it nor put it fully into words.

→ [Private] I do not know my connection to him nor why I am given the information about him.

→ [Private] No, I am not pro-Russian but I know that Russia has a role to play in what is unfolding.

→ [Public] My Russian is very rusty. I studied it a long long time ago.

→ [Private] I've learned Russian, it came easy to me... just how Japanese does too but I have not yet learned Japanese. The Japanese comes easy to me because I lived through the Mt Fuji eruption and was allowed to remember that life.

His Views:

→ [Private] I believe, and this is crucial for all to understand, the languages that come easy to us are innate within our soul as remnants of a life lived and passed.

→ [Private] Russian thinkers were too limited in their ideologies, I do find Pushkin interesting though his poetry is also very prophetic and the riddles are filled with events of future hints and ancient Russian mystery of the unknown.

Dostoyevsky was more of a psychologist in terms of his style and character development and Tolstoy was more of a sociologist. So the entire Russian development is interesting but they were very limited in their views and further imagination!

His Alleged Military Contacts:

<https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1318830/pg11#pid26698727>

The only thing I will disclose is the sectors of which my contacts operate in.

The 2 Russians:

1st Contact: Intelligence Branch

2nd Contact: Paramilitary/Special Operations

The 1 American:

Intelligence Branch

The English Contact:

Intelligence/Ex-Special Branch

Can't give ranks and names sorry, but they permitted to share current and previous positions.

Political Visions:

[Joker's Commentary: Ultimately, what won me over to his cause were his unique visions of a Hitler/Napoleon hybrid, of a German officer intervening on behalf of the Tsar's ancestor, and of a joint Russo-Chinese airborne operation.]

The German Officer

[Oct 19, 21] <https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1297643/pg2#pid26171367>

So an interesting update on him, I asked to learn more about his ancestors and I was shown that his Great Grandmother when she was a child during WW2 was saved by a high-ranking

German officer with a bunch of kids from a village she was in.

As it turns out she was staying in some village with a relative maybe an aunt or a cousin, and when the Germans were doing what I can assume was a retreat or something of the sort they began to execute the villagers.

I saw this German officer... pull out a photo and on it I saw him and a couple of children. He then looked at the guys young Great Grandmother and he grabbed her and some of the kids and hid them in a forest nearby and told them to come out in a certain number of days.

→ [Public, Nov 9, 21] He had a fancy hat on, I did not see his rank or how his pads looked all he wore this long coat over his uniform. He came into their house and took off his hat and asked them to pack as much food as they can and to follow them, he basically then walked them into the woods pretending like he was trying to get them to direct him somewhere.

It was like a grey or somewhat green uniform, the collar of the uniform shirt had these black areas around it and stuff. It's hard to describe but all I know is that a few of the lower-ranking soldiers saluted him and stood at attention. He told 2 men to watch the house until he returns and when asked if someone should come with them he said: "No, I'll handle this".

New Hitler/Napoleon Hybrid!

[Mar 15, 19] <https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1234385/pg1>

The craziest dream I have seen/experienced to date!

I witnessed what I would assume was a rally, with thousands of people the crowds were roaring. There were white flags with some sort of symbols on it they were captivating, almost alluring and drawing attention to them. Onto a stage came a man he did not seem like a politician or some snobby rich bastard instead he looked like an average Joe. When he walked up to the podium the crowds began to roar even louder as if a singular wave and they were applauding this man, some were even crying as if tears of joy.

His voice was deep and booming, he had an accent I could not place it was as if a mixture of multiple nationalities mixed into one person. The crowds hung to his every word as if they were words from a Divine man, they all seemed to have fallen into a trance. He used words like struggle, hope, faith, happiness, freedom, patriotism and to me it seemed like they were trigger words. Although his movement seemed restricted somehow he made certain hand gestures when using specific words, as if like a Jedi waving his hand and hypnotising people.

Russo-Chinese Operation

[Mar 15, 19]

After that, I was what I assume transported to the roof of a skyscraper and I saw the sky filled with planes and men, women dropping in futuristic high tech military gear parachuting out. There were shots fired in the streets, government buildings began to have white banners dropped from the sides. Nukes did not fall it seems so I assume something was done to prevent an all-out nuclear war and this was a ground offensive type of war...

[Sep 27, 22] <https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1304215/pg7#pid26696240>

The Tzar was outside, he witnessed countless planes in the sky like a horde of locusts almost there were parachutes, an endless wave of men landing and what looked like tanks, jeeps, etc.

One of the men who landed approached him and in broken English was telling him to raise his hands up, yet when the Tzar spoke Russian the man stopped and said to wait he then contacted someone over the radio and once finished he asked him to mark his house with a certain sticker the man gave him.

The man that landed with a parachute was not Russian, this massive paramilitary operation was something you could only witness during a global war. Yet no nukes fell at all!

I suspect the Russian special operation is merely a step in a bigger plan, and since this will most likely occur it means that America and NATO/Europe were no longer able to contend with whoever it is that will be spearheading this operation/war.

Could this possibly be the precursor to the fall of American and European economies? That would result in them being unable to deal with the pressure of whichever country this was, due to the obvious chaos and open conflict within their own nations.

→ [Public, Sep 28, 22] It seems some Russian high ranking military staff are aware that the Tzar is out there, also some sort of woman is aware of him too she is in her elderly age. However, it seems that they have not contacted him yet, as they are waiting for something or some sort of sign to take place... I am aware that some of the Russian high command are aware that he exists and most likely notified Putin by now.

Religious Visions:

Church Dream

[Oct 19, 21] Especially the Russian Churches I saw beautiful churches covered in water and then when the waters went away these churches were almost as if pulled up/raised up and within them, there were what I can only say were saints and angels that dwelled.

[Joker's Commentary: There's a striking resemblance to a prophecy attributed to Friar "Balthassar Mas" (Frater in Latin), supposedly written in the 17th century, year 1630. Again, I publicly replied to MrM on November 8, 2021 and privately messaged MrM on March 22, 2022. I did not share the prophecy with him until later.]

[Private, Sep 15, 22] And I saw the Tzar over looking this lake and out of the lake I saw domes of what looked like Russian Orthodox churches. The lake then drained and revealed were these beautiful churches and when I walked into them I saw the Tsar sit in his chair looking towards the altar. And there were individuals who I can only assume were saints and some were angels, there was then a voice but when the voice spoke there was this wind as if a breath. It said for this is my word and will to you, and the people I then saw these churches being placed all over Russia. The voice was coming from within and around us, by us I mean all those I saw there.

Sword Dream

[Apr 1, 18] I was in front of these big massive doors that seemed like old doors that citadels used to have, upon opening the doors I saw this room that had crumbled walls, the roof was obviously gone as the sunlight was seeping in. In the middle of the room was a chiseled stone like display table and in it was lodged a sword, the sword was covered with newly grown vines over it.
<https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1203294/pg1>

[Jun 4, 20] <https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1265708/pg1>

[Private, Sep 15, 22] I saw a sword in an ancient like orthodox church with heavy doors, I saw the Tsar open them and in the middle of it was a sword in like a stone or being held by something. And when the Tzar touched the sword the old vines/roots around it became fresh and new, and leaves began to grow from them.

Bridge Dream

[Sep 9, 20] <https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1271419/pg1>

[Dec 4, 22] <https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1322693/pg1>

Tsar's alleged lineage & appearance:

[Joker's Commentary: There are risks to publicizing identifying details about a future leader. Imposters abound in the waking world, for which reason I've omitted potentially identifying birthmarks. Subsequently, fictitious variations of the figure (or rather, seemingly life-like products of collective imagination and earnest desire) may be formed and encountered in dreams.]

→ [Public, Oct 18, 21] He will be a Romanov from his mother's line it seems, but I suspect she is a distant relative.

→ [Private, Sep 14, 22] One of the family members, either directly from the main family or in line to the throne, did escape to Siberia. It is a suspicion to most but what I was shown and told it is a known fact actually that someone did! They later had a daughter, she had a daughter, then she had a daughter who is the Tsar's mother and she obviously had the Tsar.

→ [Public, Oct 19, 21] I do know he is a Romanov from his mother's line but his father's line is interesting too when I asked about his father's line I was shown what seemed like an Islamic influenced line... So is it possible we have an individual who is both of the Orthodox line and also of an Islamic line too?

→ [Private, Sep 11, 22] Additionally, new development is that the Tsar's father has royalty roots too. It is Islamic leaning so it might be someone from Tartarstan, Kazakstan or hell even Mongolian.

→ [Public, Feb 28, 23] If the Mother is a Romanov and the father is Av who actually turns out to be a (Mongol Tartarian), I would not be surprised if the Tsar also has Khan lineage. Now that is a potent mix! A Ruso Romanov line and a Khan line mixed into one.

→ [Private, Oct 22, 22] Ask your friend these questions: Did the Tzar have hazle but you looked closer golden colour eyes? Hair colour wise dark brown but close to black? Did he have asianic looking eyes in a way? Also some what feminine but also masculine in his facial structures?

→ [Public, Jan 25, 22] Much has changed his hair is slowly growing out and he is developing facial hair, I think he is growing a beard but what I noticed is that for his age his facial hair has a lot of grey or better yet more interestingly pure white strands.

→ [Public, Sep 25, 22] The Tzar although now I believe 30 still looks very young, even with a scruffy partial beard. I suspect he is trying to grow it out but I do see him a lot without it so it is possible he lets it grow to a certain point before he shaves it off.

→ [Private, Dec 15, 22] Also that photo of Alexei; the eye structure of the Tsar looks somewhat similar but that is about it, I assume mostly due to his father's genetics being more dominant he looks less like a Romanov. However, when compared to some of the photos I recently looked at of the Romanov's his eyes do match quite a lot to some of the males in the lineage in terms of structure, symmetry and what not. Although he looks a bit more Asian due to his father's bloodline and DNA however the undeniable trace of the Romanov in him is definitely there.

→ [Private, Nov 6, 22] I think I've seen him twice in a suit, one was black, with a black vest and a dark red tie. Another time it was like a navy blue but sort of checkered suit/jacket with a vest and dark red tie.

→ [Private, May 17, 22] I also noticed something interesting. Instead of wearing a Russian orthodox crucifix around his neck like all Russians, he ties his around his right wrist... so it is indeed very interesting to observe him etc.
It seems like a standard iron, steel or maybe silver cross. It is attached to a black string that he wraps around his wrist and makes the cross partially dangle. He wears it almost like a bracelet. On the back in Russian it says what it seems like Save and Protect. The front looks like a standard orthodox you'd usually see in Russian churches.

Tsar's alleged wife:

→ [Public, Sep 25, 22] She seems European or Russian. Age wise same age or just a little bit younger than him maybe 2-5 years difference. I can not give a lot more about her actual physical appearance, but I will say this: she will do a lot of work for the children of Russia, especially orphans. They have not yet met, I think they will meet when he will be in Russia.

Tsar's alleged birth & travels:

→ [Public, Mar 24, 22] I'm 30 and by my estimations, the Tzar is 29, about to turn 30.

→ [Private, Sep 27, 22] I suspect he was born on the June solstice.

→ [Public, Sep 28, 22] I actually believe he is a June child, and in regards to his birth I got shown a Russian city or town where there were many churches. I still can not pinpoint it down but I suspect that based on his age being born in such a town would have some interesting significance, as what I saw about his family and how things unfolded for him to be born means there are strings of fate being involved by the cosmic forces.

→ [Public, Oct 18, 21] He will speak Russian without an accent (I suspect he is learning his Mother's native tongue) but he will be limited as I finally realize that he was definitely raised overseas.

→ [Public, Sep 28, 22] By the looks of things he lives with his mother and father, the rest of the family as I understood is in Russia but I did not get a glimpse at many of them so there is barely few.

→ [Public, Nov 8, 21] Joker: "Considering his frequent travel, doesn't that indicate he comes from a military background?" MrM: See I would have thought that as well, but it had to do something with his parents. They moved him when he looked like he was maybe 9 or 10 to overseas and then again when he was maybe 15-17.

→ [Public, Oct 18, 21] He was moved overseas in the early 2000s and is currently overseas because it keeps him off the radar and he did seem to move a lot. I was shown that he was born in Russia, then at a young age he was in an Asian country for a little while, then some sort of pacific country and now is in some sort of another country.

→ [Public, Nov 8, 21] It seems they move every 7 years or so but they seem to be held in the current location for a bit longer than usual, so I wonder why and what it is going to lead to.

Tsar's alleged name:

→ [Public, Aug 2, 20] I saw his name which I am allowed to mention I think, it was Kirill or Cyrill or Cyrillus something like that.

→ [Private, Apr 29, 22] His name is Kirill Vladimirovich Romanov, he carries the name of a Saint, the middle name of a first baptized king/tzar of Russia and the Romanov name but I believe the Romanov name is from his mother's side.

→ [Private, Nov 22, 22] The Tsar's name in Greek/Latin is Cyrill or Cyrillus so there is also meaning behind that too.

→ [Public, Jul 12, 22] The Tzar's name in old Greek plus other cultures means "Lord, Master" and throughout history has been represented by the name many saints beared. His middle name or as the Russians say "Otchestvo" is that of old Tzars and a few Kings. And obviously, he is a Romanov from his mother's side, but what is also interesting is that he has Islamic royal roots from his father's side as well. What is interesting is that he won't be easily found because his mother and father, seemed to have changed his name to an English one when they moved him overseas...

→ [Private, Sep 15, 22] He might take up a different name once crowned as it is a given choice.

Tsar's alleged conditions:

→ [Public, May 29, 22] From what I observed he has been in a wheelchair since the age of 15 but his condition seemed to have started at 10...

→ [Public, Sep 25, 22] Additionally, I can not explain his illness, he is in a wheelchair but he still can move his arms and legs. So he is not paralyzed but seems to have some sort of illness or weakness that doesn't permit him to walk...

→ [Public, Jul 3, 22] Yes, he is still in a wheelchair, he can move his arms and legs though, I think it has something to do with that's affecting his hips, lower back and shoulders possibly!

→ [Private, Dec 6, 22] He will be wheelchair-bound right before he is revealed and is healed in front of the people, or he will remain wheelchair-bound through part of his rule before he is healed by a miracle or via a cure.

I suspect the Tsar is in a wheelchair because of who he is, so a human body is not accustomed to such thing, or to be hidden, or to make people be in shock and awe that someone in a wheelchair could do what he will do, etc.

Many factors and many reasons could be a part of it, but I did see him eventually walking and running. So I suspect he will be healed eventually.

→ [Private, Jan 15, 23] I think the Romanov's might have had re-occurring muscular dystrophy that popped up every couple of generations. I suspect Alexei had the same condition but a milder version of it. Also observing some old footage and the way he walked, plus how Rasputin carried him.

[Joker's Commentary: Actually, it was Andrey Derevenko who carried Alexei.]

→ [Private, Sep 27, 22] Also the Tzar does sleep a lot, which is interesting as he tends to lean back in his chair and sleep continuously... Actually, he does stare at the ceiling a lot when he reclines, I don't know why.

→ [Private, Mar 22, 22] But he is also constantly going into a nap state somehow because I constantly see him either falling asleep or just sort of tuning out.

Tsar's alleged preferences:

→ [Public, Mar 23, 22] He seems to be reading a lot of strategies, philosophy, psychology books and some old classics by Dostoyevski, Homer, Plato, Marcus Aurelius, Seneca, etc. Spiritual text like Bible, Tora and Quran, etc.

→ [Private, May 19, 22] I believe I witnessed him read Nietzsche, Plato, Carl Jung and also he is reading Marcus Aurelius etc.

→ [Private, Dec 11, 22] The Tsar reads more things like Japanese, Chinese, etc. I also see him read psychology books by Jung I think... He only reads certain things I believe he feels energy or direction towards, he doesn't just read random things.

→ [Private, May 19, 22] I believe while observing him I heard Mozart, Chopin, Vivaldi, Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, and maybe Debussy... I am not 100% sure but I do find it interesting that for someone of his generation he is leaning towards such music.

→ [Private, Sep 30, 22] I think he likes it, the snow and things. Because I believe it makes him feel calm, as I suspect because he is in a wheelchair he must have gone through a lot of things. Since he is still around it means he has not given up and became strong by the severity of his existence/environment it made him grow up in. So it would explain why such brutal cold weather like one of Russia would feel calming, home like and he would like it as it would remind him of the things he went through, etc.

Tsar's alleged personality:

→ [Private, Sep 30, 22] I believe he is very respectful to animals, especially horses and dogs. I suspect because he knows they are very sentient beings, etc.

→ [Private, Nov 8, 21] It's almost as if he has a moral compass built-in or something constantly telling him when something is a lie, but he always tries to see the best in people and the potential within them.

→ [Private, Oct 22, 22] He takes serious conversations and adds humor to it. He speaks seriously very rarely. He also pretends to know nothing or to hide his true intellect as well. It is why he will catch many leaders around the world off-guard, as they will think of him like Ivan The Idiot so to speak but in reality his intellect is terrifying!

Tsar's Political Ideology:

→ [Public, Jan 25, 22] <https://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread1304215/pg1>

A lot of people are asking about his political view and how he will rule, I heard this word when I observed him speak to the people - I apologize if I am butchering the Russian, he said "Kopskoe/Kopnoe". It looked/seemed very Democratic but yet it was not because it was too pure and not able to be corrupted, he also acted as the final word where he assessed and thought about things presented before making a decision final. It was really, really interesting because for example, if the people around him voted, let's say 7 for yes and 6 for no on a matter, he would reassess all things presented at least 7 times and ask of those he appointed as I guess elders or ministers of regions to do the same. So to sum it up, no stone was left unturned and no decision was rushed - ever!

In addition, he did live appointments of leaders where people of each region only put the best man by gathering, there were no ballots, and was no voting system electronically. People would gather in a mass of an entire region at a place and with a direct translation of a live broadcast would vote on a candidate by raise of a hand.

It cause a lot of backlash from leaders around the world because people in other countries demanded the same set of government and rule. A lot of people also began moving to Russia even from overseas; however, the moving part was done in such a way that only the best of the best can get in (there was no handout visas and super thorough assessments were made of each family member wanting to move to Russia). Russia became what I can only describe as a new Rome but less of a killing machine and more of a blossoming pillar of humanity.

→ [Private, Dec 8, 22] The Tsar will give each nation a choice to be independent or join and become part of the singular nation. As I mentioned, this heavily depends on when the Tsar shows up, it also is considering how things play out for Germany and if the Americans will be crazy enough to nuke it and most of Western Europe.

Tsar's Religious Reform:

→ [Public, Oct 19, 21] I was shown that he hasn't been inside an Orthodox church since the time he was a child, also I think he is avoiding speaking to any pastors, spiritual leaders or members of the Orthodox Church about the things he is being shown.

→ [Public, Jan 25, 22] The future ruler will come unknown traveling over a vast body of water and much land to get to Russia, there are 2 variants when he will emerge it will either be sooner than later or when Russia will again collapse and become small to a size it once was. I am not sure what will cause this collapse or downsizing but much of the cities seemed dark, without power, water and a bit torn up... Maybe a war or a revolution?

→ [Public, Nov 8, 21] I know for a fact many in the political circles will doubt him and will even try to do everything they can to not allow him to become Tsar. Even those people that realize who he is at some point will doubt him but it seems all of Russia will rejoice, many religious leaders will come to him and so will many world leaders too asking for forgiveness of the father for the things they have done. In that moment, however, he will say stuff like "I do not have the authority to forgive you nor am I the father the give forgiveness, for go to the temples of your father make offerings accordingly to your forefathers and ask the father for your redemption".

→ [Public, Aug 2, 20] When at the church where he was anointed he asked not for the Russian crown but instead that of like vines and when the Russian ~~pope~~ [patriarch] put something on his head and then the crown he said: "Father guide the people through me, show your will to them and to the world through your goodness" or something like that.

→ [Private, May 16, 22] The Tsar will indeed be a very religious man but his belief will be shocking to many and many will be confused when he will turn the throne to the altar of God and speak those things such as "Father rule these people through me and let me rule by you", etc.

→ [Public, Oct 19, 21] As I stated before that when he will be anointed by the Russian Orthodox he will turn the throne towards the altar and say something like "God let me guide these people and rule this nation through your will".

→ [Public, Nov 8, 21] Basically, when I saw him being anointed at a church I am not sure which it will be all I know is that he will turn the Russian throne to the altar of God or as he said Otche which I understood was an old Slavic word for Father if I am not mistaken.

→ [Private, Jan 15, 23] Also the Tsar was given some sort of question, he was asked - "Would you still do what needs to be done even if it meant you'd still be unable to walk?" His reply was rather interesting - "For this sickness or illness was meant to hide me and keep eyes off me, for I would not wish it upon anyone else in my family or any children I might have. For I accept it and see it that if it is the will of The Creator and part of my mission then I will remain in this seat. For a ruler does not need to stand to change the world, and Russia had another before me who made great change in the past and he too was unable to stand nor walk."

On Russia:

→ [Private, Sep 30, 22] The world leaders and the people of the world, fear a strong Russia because they know what Russia is. It is the last bastion of light in the world and it is why historically Russia has been the land of saints it seems.

→ [Private, Feb 17, 23] It is something many do not understand about Russia and who stands behind it, and as I said "There is a reason Russia is the land of Healers and Saints". Why do you think so many great historic and current healers have always removed themselves from modern-day life and after they lead an ascetic way of life they developed their connection with God and discovered their gifts (better yet said blessings bestowed upon them).

→ [Private, Feb 17, 23] You've read multiple times in my writings and I have said multiple times to you no matter what scenario plays out, Russia will not fall and will rise again and again. Countless empires tried to end Russia and yet they've always risen no matter how hard it got. It's not just a culture or a "Slav mentality", it's imprinted into the soul of every Russian, something others would not understand.

On Stalin:

→ [Private, May 1, 22] I believe the Tsar will condemn him for the murders of all those people, but he will also say that in the time of need Russia required someone like Stalin.

→ [Private, Feb 9, 23] Unknown to many but Stalin was a very interesting man too, even with all the things he has done, he was visited by a saint like man once who told him what might occur to Russia in the future. The KGB has files on it, I assume the Tsar will reveal a lot of the files when he comes to lead Russia.

On Putin:

→ [Public, Jan 26, 22] Actually, Putin is not the future Russian Tzar. Putin is merely preparing Russia for the Tzar, and I believe he will be an advisor to him as the Tzar is still rather young. I did see him and the man who is to stand side by side. This man will forgive Putin in front of all the people and when they will judge him for it he will speak out certain things, which will turn the crowd to ask to forgive Putin too.

→ [Private, May 16, 22] Remember as I said when the Tsar does show up people will demand for him to exile or kill Putin or allow the people to tear him apart. But he will say things that will make people stop and ask him to forgive him.

→ [Public, Sep 15, 22] There are 2 futures regarding Putin, the Tsar will show up exactly after Putin and pardon him in front of the masses. Or... there will be 4-7 communist-like leaders before the Tsar shows up but their rule will not be long and only last 1-2 years maximum.

→ [Public, Feb 24, 22] Macron signed a secret pact with Putin of non-aggression... Macron is in panic as people want his head, so a non-aggression pact was signed with Putin to ensure that France does not get involved in the coming conflict.

On China:

→ [Public, Feb 28, 23] Putin and Xi always visit one another before any major event plays out. It happened in 2014 before Crimea. It happened before the signing of the DLPR region and their autonomous status and verifying them as their own state/region. Additionally, it happened before the actual Special Military Operation occurred. Either Putin and Xi meet, or high enough representatives meet on behalf of Putin and Xi. So the constant agreement between the two exists, both operate as one and never out of line. China would not turn on Russia until they no longer see Russia as beneficial...

→ [Public: Feb 17, 23] Also: Russia won't invade China or go to war with them not yet at least! China will eventually attack Russia as it is their future to backstab the Russians. However, by that time a lot more Chinese will be pro-Russian even much more than they are now and maybe just maybe as soon as the attempt by China happens the people will side with the Russians.
